

Did Ashlee get her lips done, too?

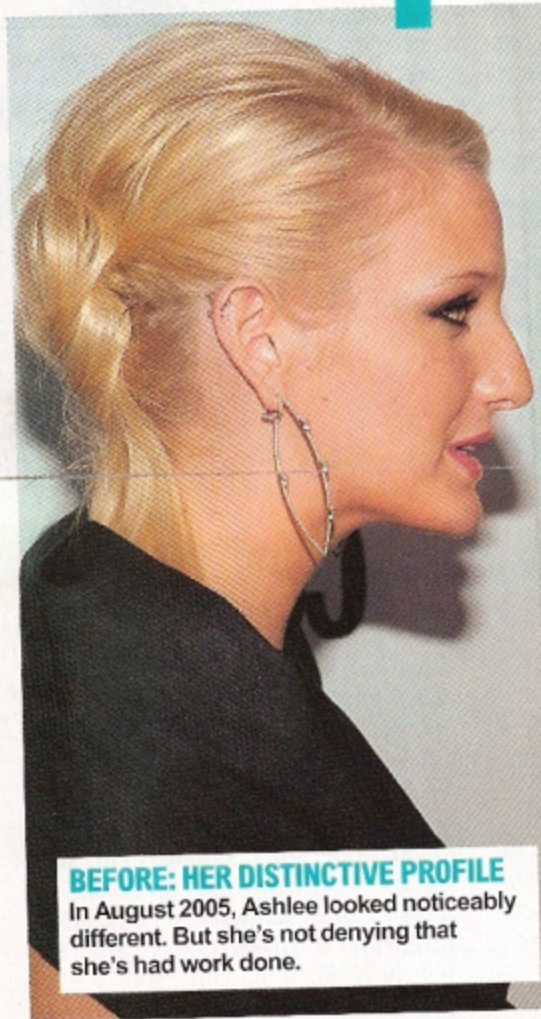

Is she copying Jessica?

First she went under the knife to fix her nose, and now she's got a bigger pout

It looks like Ashlee Simpson has gotten herself a sexier pair of lips to match her cute new nose! "It appears as if she's had Restylane injections to plump her lips," says plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn (who hasn't treated her). The 21-year-old, who's looking more like her sister, Jessica, every day, reportedly had her lips done when her sister did in December and now they're plump again. Could she be hooked? "The surgery she's had so far is reasonable, but if she had any more, then that would be crossing the line," Dr. Youn says.

BEFORE: HER DISTINCTIVE PROFILE

In August 2005, Ashlee looked noticeably different. But she's not denying that she's had work done.

NOW: A WHOLE NEW LOOK

With the plumped lips and new nose, she's practically a Jessica look-alike!

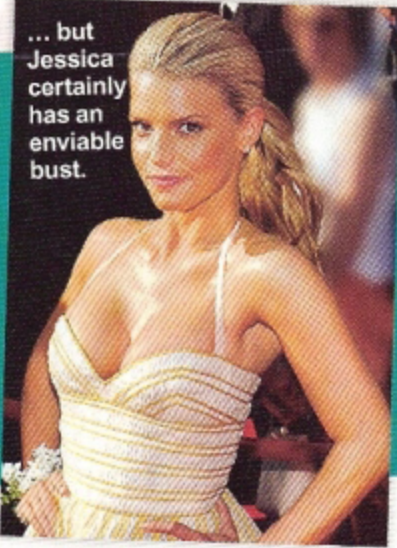

Are implants next?

They have the same hair and lips, so is Ashlee going to get a boob job to match her older sibling? Ashlee, who's at least a cup size smaller than naturally endowed Jessica, 25, has said she's happy with her cleavage: "I got lucky because my chest size isn't completely massive. But I definitely have boobs." She also once claimed she loved the bump on her nose, but then she had surgery to get rid of it!

Ashlee's never been known for her cleavage...

... but Jessica certainly has an enviable bust.
