Jen's shock over naked

HAIR

Although both women have streaked blond hair, nobody does "The Rachel" hairdo better than Jennifer.

BOOBS

The real Jen, right, has a wider space between her breasts, which are smaller, Dr. Youn says. "You couldn't even change that with surgery."

RIBS

The woman in the video, left, has a thinner ribcage than Jen, Dr. Youn points out. "Her proportions are just different."

HIPS

The woman in the video is probably a couple of pounds lighter than Jen, but she is heavier and curvier in the hips, says Dr. Youn.

RINGS

They have similar sunglasses and rings on their left hands.

In a video on ilovethebeach.com that's making its way around the Internet, a woman who looks just like Jennifer Aniston is seen walking down the beach — topless.

In the eight-second clip, she casually strolls in plain view of the camera, and pauses momentarily to adjust her skimpy Calvin Klein shorts. Various blogs have claimed that it is indeed the former Friends star — but is it?

This wouldn't be the first time Jen, 37, was caught without her shirt on. She's been known to go topless in her backyard, and twice, she's successfully sued photographers who've taken pictures of her sunbathing without a shirt on her own property.

It looks like her

But after examining the video for In Touch and comparing it to several photos of Jen, plastic surgeon Dr. Anthony Youn says the woman in the video is not Jennifer — it's a Jennifer look-alike.

"Their faces have an uncanny resemblance," Dr. Youn says. "Their noses and lips are very similar, but Jennifer has a slightly smaller chin." Brandon Martinez, a hairstylist for Warren-Tricomi salons, agrees with Dr. Youn, saying, "Their hairstyle, texture and color look very similar, but I don't think it is Jennifer. The woman seems to have more wave in her hair."

When friends showed Jen the video, they were shocked by her reaction.

She thought it was funny, a pal says. The star was surprised that people thought the woman looked like her, but she wasn't upset.

Jennifer's never been particularly shy about showing skin — she's posed for semi-nude pictures in GQ, Rolling Stone and Vanity Fair, and even walked naked through a scene in her last movie, The Break-Up. Her friend says she had a good sense of humor about the video, even joking that the woman has a great body.

video!

Bloggers are buzzing about a video that's all over the Internet and shows a topless woman strolling the beach. But is it really Jennifer Aniston?
