

By ROBIN MIZRAHI

In Hollywood, a glamour queen's best friend is often her plastic surgeon - unless you're the world's self-proclaimed first supermodel, Janice Dickinson!

As our exclusive photo shows, Janice - author, former judge on America's Next Top Model and star of her own Oxygen channel reality show - is looking like a Halloween fright night reject, thanks to a new set of gargantuan lips.

The outspoken former catwalker has admitted to countless cosmetic surgery procedures, including a tummy tuck, two breast enhancements, a brow lift, a mini face lift, upper and lower eye lifts, liposuction, fat grafting to her cheeks, a chemical peel, Botox every six weeks and porcelain veneers on her teeth.

But now several top surgeons are warning that the 53-year-old has gone too far.

"Janice looks like Steven Tyler in drag," Los Angeles-based cosmetic surgeon Dr. Steven Svehlak told The ENQUIRER.

"Her lips are disproportionate to what normal lips look like. They appear grossly swollen due to being over-treated with either an injectable substance or a surgical enhancer."

Dr. Svehlak, who has not treated Janice, explained that two common methods of pumping up lips are injection of synthetic or natural materials, such as silicone or the body's own fat, or insertion of a type of implant placed inside the lips.

"Janice's mouth just doesn't look normal," he said. "Her lips are disproportionate to her face and other features, and make her look extremely odd, almost deformed-looking. If she were my patient, I would not want to advertise this result as an example of my work."

We also showed the photo to Detroit-based cosmetic surgeon Dr. Tony Youn, whose reaction was: "Holy cow! Janice's lips are the worst plastic surgery I've ever seen."

"It looks to me like she had implants inserted in her upper and lower lips. They look thick and rigid, a clear sign of a plastic implant."

"Not only does Janice look like a trout, but you can see that her lips don't move quite right, which also indicates something solid inserted inside."

UGH!!

Supermodel
Janice Dickinson
flaunts the world's ugliest
TROUT POUT

PLASTIC SURGERY SHOCKER!

NOW SHE'S A DEAD RINGER
FOR STEVEN TYLER!

"Plastic lip implants were big a few years back. But a lot of people who had them inserted have since taken them out because they're so stiff."

Added Los Angeles-based plastic surgeon Dr. George Boris: "Janice's lips look grotesque. It's just an absolute disaster."

Turn the page for Star Flaws

