

Are the Kardashians plastic

It looks like having a little work done runs in the family!

Some families bond over vacations or sports, but reality star Kim Kardashian and the Keeping Up With the Kardashians clan seem to share a different favorite pastime: plastic surgery. In fact, Dr. Anthony Youn, the editor of CelebrityCosmeticsurgery.blogspot.com, reviewed photos of the family and thinks Kim's mom, stepdad Bruce Jenner and sisters may have all nipped and tucked in recent years. "When children see how plastic surgery improves the self-image of their parents," explains Dr. Youn, who has not treated the family, "it provides an incentive to have work done themselves." No kidding!

The Kardashians' 1995 family photo

Looks like Khloe slimmed her hips and nose

Most of the difference in Kim's younger sister, Khloe, 23, can be attributed to weight loss, says Dr. Youn, though he adds, "It appears she may have had rhinoplasty to refine her nose."

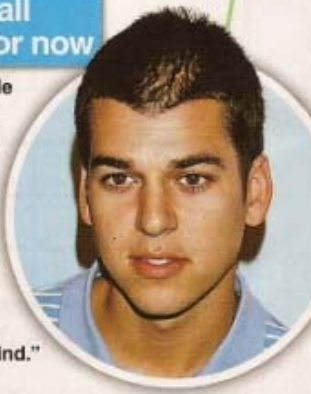

Kourtney's boobs appear so much bigger

Kim's big sis, Kourtney, 28, may have had a boost in the boob department, Dr. Youn believes. "Her breasts, like Kim's, appear disproportionately big for her body," he notes. He also thinks Kourtney's lips are now more luscious, possibly thanks to fillers.

Robert's all natural, for now

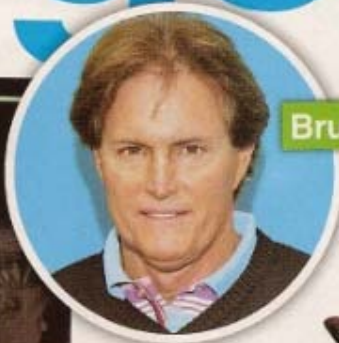

So far, Kim's little brother, Robert, 20, has avoided the allure of plastic surgery, says Dr. Youn. "I don't see anything obvious," Dr. Youn explains. "There's no evidence of any work that I can find."

FROM LEFT: PHOTOFEST; STEVEN BRONSTEIN; WOODFIN CAMPBELL; JEFFREY MAYER; MICHAEL OCHS; CALVIN HERRING

crazy about surgery?

Bruce is all tightened up

Dr. Youn believes that stepdad Bruce Jenner, 58, may have had his nose thinned, but an insider close to the Kardashians tells Life & Style that Bruce has copped to a face-lift. The insider says one of the show's proposed story lines (which never happened) this season involved Bruce and Kris getting his-and-hers face-lifts!

Kris looks as young as her daughters

Family matriarch Kris, 52, may win the prize for most work done, Dr. Youn believes. "Her nose appears to have gotten shorter," he says, "which is the exact opposite of what usually happens with natural aging." Also on her plastic surgery shopping list, Dr. Youn thinks: a possible face-lift, cheek implants, breast augmentation and Botox.

It's hard keeping up with Kim

The transformation of 27-year-old Kim from sweet kid to sexy pinup wasn't 100 percent au naturel, Dr. Youn believes. He thinks Kim's Barbie-doll curves may be the result of work from top to bottom (meaning breast enhancement and buttocks augmentation). Also, "her nose looks thinner and more refined," he says, indicating a possible nose job, and "her lips have gotten fuller through the years," which could be the result of a filler like Restylane or Juvéderm. Kim's rep denies any surgery.